The first batch of NCC cadets attended firing practice for the first time at 46 JH BN NCC, Gumla. A total of six cadets — Anup Dumdung, Sanket Kullu, Adit Bage, Natasha Nayak, Shruti Kerketta, and Neelam Kumari — participated in the one-day firing practice conducted on 2 April 2026.

The training was organized to provide basic knowledge and practical experience in weapon handling and firing techniques. During the practice session, the PI staff taught the cadets the basics of shooting, aiming, and how to take proper firing positions. They were also instructed about discipline on the firing range, alignment of the front sight and rear sight, and the value and importance of ammunition on the battlefield.

The cadets were guided on safety precautions, firing methods, and proper handling of weapons during the training. All cadets actively participated in the session with enthusiasm and sincerity.

The firing practice helped the cadets improve their confidence, concentration, discipline, and understanding of weapon training. The session was conducted successfully under the guidance of the NCC training staff of 46 JH BN NCC, Gumla.
